Self Enhancement Inc. Academy Public Charter School (6-8)

3920 N. Kerby Ave., Portland, 503-249-1721, x327, www.selfenhancement.org/sei_academy.html

Contact: Carl Reinhold, carlr@seldfenhancement.org

The SEI Academy is a grade 6-8 public charter school dedicated to helping all students realize their full academic and personal potential. SEI's goal is for its graduates to be well prepared for high school and college by achieving high academic standards. The program prepares students to be successful young people who will lead healthy lives and who will make worthwhile contributions to their communities.

Trillium Public Charter School (K-12)

5420 N. Interstate Ave., 503-285-3833, www.trilliumcharterschool.org

Contact: Genevieve Bouwes, info@trilliumcharterschool.org

Trillium's goal is to educate the whole child with an integrated curriculum that instills a desire for lifelong learning. The curriculum includes community, urban, and global studies. Trillium emphasizes independent, project-based learning within a small class and a small school environment. As part of a commitment to build a true community of learners, Trillium employs mixed-age classes building courses around interests and abilities rather than age or grade level. Trillium offers different learning styles and uses democratic processes to help students grow fully as human beings and contribute to and enhance the world.

9-12

Leadership and Entrepreneurship Public Charter High School (9-12)

2044 E. Burnside, 503-254-2537, lephigh.org

Contact: Lorna Fast Buffalo Horse, lorna.fbh@lephigh.org

The Leadership and Entrepreneurship High School (LEP) focuses on engaging students in their learning experience and making school an exciting place to learn. Through the study of leadership and entrepreneurship, students develop a strong sense of self-efficacy, social responsibility and an entrepreneurial spirit. The school design also provides a rigorous college prep curriculum. Teachers use project-based, interdisciplinary learning, and students gain real world experience through internships and service learning with businesses and community organizations.

In fall 2011, two new charter high schools will open.

Golden Leaf Public Charter High School (9-10, growing to 9-12)

Address to be determined, 503-516-3106, www.glchs.org

Contact: Lisa Ung, lisaung@gmail.com

K-8 & 9-12

Portland Arthur Academy (K-5)

7507 SE Yamhill St., 503-257-3936, www.arthuracademy.org,

Contact: Ryan Hull, hullskitchen@gmail.com

Portland Arthur Academy seeks to accelerate achievement and learning for all students. The program achieves success through a highly organized incremental mastery program. Using a highly researched direct instruction program gives teachers the best tools possible to clearly communicate the academic message. This entails the students mastering their tasks daily before moving on to the next skill. Through positive structured expectations, Portland Arthur Academy creates a safe, thriving learning environment for all students.

Emerson Public Charter School (K-5)

105 N.W. Park, 503-525-6124, www.emersonschool.org,

Contact: Tara O'Neil, info@emersonschool.org

Parents play a key role in the Emerson community. Families come from all quadrants of the city, creating a school culture that honors and celebrates individual and community diversity. The integrated, project-based curriculum continually builds on students' previous learning and experiences. Real-world problem solving, purposeful field studies and student interest are combined with direct instruction in reading, writing, and math to create a strong and comprehensive curriculum. The Emerson School is a national model for Positive Discipline.

Opal Charter School of the Portland Children's Museum (K-5)

4015 S.W. Canyon Road, 503-471-9902, www.portlandcm.org/opal_school.php,

Contact: Tara Papandrew, tpapandrew@portlandcm.org

Opal School believes that the purpose of education is to provide opportunities for all children to participate fully in creating and shaping their own lives, and to contribute to the quality of life around them. Opal supports children in developing their own voices by providing access to the many forms of communication found in the languages of the arts and sciences. Instructional approaches are shaped and influenced by the work of early childhood educators in Reggio Emilia, Italy, research in neuroscience, and the constructivist research and practices of educators in the U.S. and beyond.
