FROM OUR PRINCIPAL

Dear Families,

What a delight it is to return to MLC as your interim principal! My pattern seems to be to “dip back in to MLC” at least every four years, just to get my fix on kids, great staff, and supportive, interesting families.

I have had the luxury of traveling in around the world with friends and family for the past years, particularly doing some good work in SE Asia. I also keep involved with summer leadership programs (in the mountains), and flexible work with our family business. One of my favorite pastimes remains riding a motorbike through northern Laos with a small backpack, all my cares virtually disappearing. Usually family members stay off my bike, but thankfully my nieces will ride with me almost anywhere! I’m rested, healthy and happy. And ... I’m really glad to be back at school! I am loving hearing about the journeys that staff and families have had since my time here four years ago.

I arrived at the door on October 11 and it appeared that school was off to a grand start. I met Jeff, our new Vice Principal, and am thankful for his quick learning and guidance the first few weeks without me. Kathleen is an encyclopedia of “what’s happening, when and how” ... some things never change! I appreciate her dedication beyond measure. I’m having a great time getting reacquainted with longer term staff, and getting to know our new folks. At the same time, I hope to meet and work with many of you this year. Please feel free to stop by and say hello in the next few weeks ... or I’ll meet you throughout the year as we work on Site Council, PTSA, the Auction, fundraisers, field trips and other activities together. It seems like HUNDREDS of you continue to show up and help us in our work. Thank you!

All signs point to an exciting year here at MLC. I’m looking forward to spending it with all of you.

Fondly,

Pam

GREETINGS FROM THE COUNSELING OFFICE

Elective News

The first session of electives for this school year is underway. Tuesday and Thursday afternoons are quite busy around here. This year we have a new flute class with ten 6th and 7th grade students. All the marimba bands are playing away.

Our youngest students are learning about AND doing Andy Goldsworthy art (check him out on www.morningearth.org/artistnaturalists/andy_goldsworthy.html). They are also dancing, playing, building with clay and making yummy fall snacks.

Older students are learning vocal techniques in 'Singing in the Studio', exploring street art, creating prehistoric beasts, developing teamwork in 'Creation

Lab', discovering the history of Rock and Roll, building sketchbooks and filling them up, and playing lots of sports. Sixty classes in all! It's pretty incredible providing such a diverse range of experiences for our children right here in a public school. We have exceptionally committed teachers and we have you, our parents, grandparents, and friends from the community who come in every week and share a little (sometimes a lot!) of yourselves with our students. Thank you!!!

Winter Electives Coming Up

I am starting to work on the winter schedule of electives. Our next session will begin in January and run for 10 weeks. I am looking for new elective teachers. A few parents have already stopped by my office with great ideas for new classes. Winter term is a perfect opportunity for electives that produce an item or items for the MLC Auction. We have recently had a large loom donated to the school; we'd love to have a weaving elective (we also have a dozen small looms). Please come and see me in the next few weeks if you would like to teach an elective. We'd love to have you... we need you!

Special Thanks to . . .

All of the parents who volunteered at elective sign ups at the end of September. Everyone who brought in donations! We received artist supplies, great yarn and Lego! The PTSA. The elective program now has a much needed digital camera and CD/iPod stereo for use in electives. The elective teachers, of course! You do such a great job every week and we really appreciate it!

Notes

Hi everyone, I am so happy to be back at MLC at .75 FTE this year. Thank you to the PTSA for their support. They allocated money to purchase new equipment for the MLC Physical Education program. I also want to thank the mystery parent who bought brand new loaner shoes for the program. Please come visit me so I can thank you in person.

Shoes: Speaking of shoes....on the days your child has PE, could you please send them to school with clean, gym appropriate shoes. Open-toed shoes, boots, sandals, dress shoes or shoes which can fly off when they kick are not safe. Kindergarten, 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades have PE on Monday and Wednesday. Currently all MLC students (except 7/8) get PE at least 30 minutes twice a week. Due to budget cuts the full time PE program was cut .25 and the 7/8 only get PE once a week.

Clothing: Please send your student in clothes which are conducive to physical activity. Some kids forget and wear skirts, low cut tops, or tight jeans which make it difficult to move. Others wear nice clothes and don't participate fully because they don't want to sweat in their nice clothes.

Thanks for your help. It's been fun watching the kids learn skills for lifelong physical activity. In the interest of better health for all -- Deanne

From Our Library ...

Thank you to the incredible parents who have come and volunteered in the library! I so appreciate the time you've taken out of your enormously busy lives to come in and spend some time working for all of our students, here in the library! You are incredible--
THANK YOU!

What are You Reading?

I just finished reading a book for my book group, and I loved it! I'm sure many of you have read it already, but if you haven't, you must. I'm talking about The Help by Kathryn Stockett.

Here's Publisher's Weekly's review:

"Starred Review. (An) optimistic, uplifting debut novel (and maiden publication of Amy Einhorn's new imprint) set during the nascent civil rights movement in Jackson, Miss., where black women were trusted to raise white children but not to polish the household silver. Eugenia Skeeter Phelan is just home from college in 1962, and, anxious to become a writer, is advised to hone her chops by writing about what disturbs you. The budding social activist begins to collect the stories of the black women on whom the country club sets relies and mistrusts enlisting the help of Aibileen, a maid who's raised 17 children, and Aibileen's best friend Minny, who's found herself unemployed more than a few times after mouthing off to her white employers. The book Skeeter puts together based on their stories is scathing and shocking, bringing pride and hope to the black community, while giving Skeeter the courage to break down her personal boundaries and pursue her dreams. Assured and layered, full of heart and history, this one has bestseller written all over it."

Do you have a book you'd like to recommend? Send me the author, title, and a short summary of the book you recommend and I'll try to post it in our next newsletter. Send your recommendations to kliljequist@pps.k12.or.us

It's Puzzle Time!

Congratulations to Nadia Foster, 1st grader in John's class!! She correctly identified one of the mystery passages from last month's newsletter as coming from the classic, Stuart Little, by E.B. White.

Can anyone identify these other two passages?

"Farmer Joe works hard all day long. At the end of the day, Farmer Joe is tired and heads home for bed. Farmer Joe's animals are sleepy, too. But are they getting ready for bed? Not tonight. They have a show to get ready for. Pig plugs in his amp. Cows sets up her drums. Chicken sets up her keyboards."

"Today I moved to a twelve-acre rock covered with cement, topped with bird turd and surrounded by water. Alcatraz sits small in the middle of the bay—so close to the city of San Francisco, I can hear them call the score on a baseball game on Marina Green. Okay, not that close. But still."

What kinds of things would you like to see in the newsletter from our library? Send me an email and let me know:

MLC to Israel

Last April, 21 Arab and Israeli students, mostly of middle school age, left Hand in Hand, their school in Jerusalem, to spend two weeks in the Portland area, including a week with host families from MLC. Hand in Hand students spent time at Camp Collins and at MLC with students here, answering questions, sharing their experience.

Four bilingual Hand in Hand charter schools were co-founded by MLC parent, Lee Gordon and Amin Khalaf. The goal of these schools is to bring together Arab and Jewish students with the hope that they will learn to understand their own religious and cultural differences.

This year, a group of MLC 8-10th graders are going to Jerusalem through Hand in Hand to experience both the Jewish and Arab cultures first hand.

Decks of cards & cribbage boards

Hello there! If anyone has any extra decks of cards and cribbage boards, I'd be grateful for them. I am doing an elective about games and puzzles and I can teach interested kiddos. Thanks.

Calling all things glittery/shiny/bright!

The 2010-2011 Solstice Committee is looking for any donations of anything that sparkles on the stage for this year's annual performance in the auditorium. We would love shiny fabrics, glitter, glue guns--anything that can sparkle something up! If you have items to donate please leave them in a bag/box marked "Solstice Donations" outside of Room 106 (the Art room) in the basement.

Looking forward to a great Solstice!

Julie & Bianca (The Solstice Committee)

Free Weights, Pilates Balls & Gym-Appropriate Shoes

In addition to clean, gym appropriate shoes, in good condition, of all sizes as loaners for PE, spare free weights or pilates balls would be a great help. Shoes can be left outside my door, room 208. Thanks!

MLC History... Really Old School

MLC, as a program, moved in to Couch school in 1968. What was Couch school? When did it begin? (Thanks to PPS District Architect Blair Fitzgibbon for sharing historical images and the OR Historical Site data for the Couch School.)

The original building, pictured above, was designed by architect Justus Krumbein. Miss Georgia L. Parker, was the first principal. By the time the picture on the right was taken, a year or so later, Justus Burnham (circled) had become principal.

163 years ago, in 1847 – the year the candy bar was invented and the year Thomas Edison was born – Dr. Ralph Wilcox started the first school in Portland. Over the next handful of years other interested parties started their own schools. At first, all of these schools were private and charged tuition (about $10/quarter per student.)

In 1855, about eight years later, the push for public free schools was in full swing. By May, 1858, the first, Central School, was opened. Atkinson, High School, Harrison Street School and Park school followed and the student population grew.

In 1874 there were 1600 students in Portland, by 1882, when the identical Couch and Failing schools were commissioned, the number of students had nearly doubled to 3130 students.

In 1908, 172 children and two teachers died in a school fire in Collinwood, Ohio. This prompted a national re-evaluation of school buildings and the safety of their construction. In 1914, the push for fireproof school buildings across the country led the Portland City Council to require that all schools constructed after January 1, 1911 be fireproof.

A new, fireproof, Couch school was redesigned, in 1914, by architect Floyd Naramore. (He also designed the Kennedy School, among others.) According to the Washington State historical site, HistoryLink.org, Floyd received national attention for his design of the Couch Elementary School, before moving to Seattle, where he continued his work as an architect of schools. The gym was added in 1926; parts of the building were remodeled in the 1980s. The classrooms, however have their original configurations, molding, wood flooring, chalk boards and recessed interior cabinets designed to create a sound buffer between classrooms.

MLC PTSA MEETING MINUTES

Welcome & Introductions

Tanya started the meeting at 7:07, in attendance were: Tanya March, Leigh Anne Scherer, Jacquelyn Martin, Stephanie Brown, Carla Peters, Lauren Nathe, Katherine Kondylis, Jake Pacheco, Lorelei Mitchell, Lauren Geffner, Mandy Butler, Laura Bullock, Pam Shelly.

Review of September Minutes

The minutes from the September 23 meeting were approved with no changes.

Principal's Report

Pam Shelly, our new interim principal introduced herself. Pam will be the interim principal for the entire year. PPS will begin the process for hiring a new principal in January.

Treasurer's Report

Jacquelyn presented the budget P&L and Balance Sheet. There has been very little change since last month, there are a few new memberships trickling in, but most of the income is from Pizza Night.

Notes

Gym Access

There is a parent who would like to lead an elective that requires the gym, but this parent is in a wheelchair and is unable to get in the gym. A group of parents would like to fix this situation. PPS facilities will allow this by following a specified process. Laura and Pam will discuss this situation and figure out how/if we can make this happen.

Library

There is concern about the Library not being open as much, particularly for the 7/8s. They do not have a specified time to go to the Library. Pam will look into this problem and try to find a solution.

Old Business

Pizza Night & Community Dance

For the first time the events were held on the same night. PTSA is seeking feedback on how the event went. Lauren moved that we give Roxanne a $50 gift card in appreciation for her work helping us with Pizza Night. Jake seconded and the motion was approved.

SCRIP

Laura gave an update on how the SCRIP program is working: $2,095 last year net. This year is already at $589 net. The reports look skewed because we carry inventory. We are averaging 5-6 orders per week. Our goal is 20 orders per week. We want people to start shopping with SCRIP. It is as easy as buying and using a gift card as well as an easy way to raise money for the school without costing extra for families.

New Business

Auction 2011

Per Lauren's presentation from the auction committee: Plans are well underway - the website has been built, the procurement committee is getting ready to send out letters to get a jump on things. The auction committee proposed a $10 suggested donation for attending the auction to allow for better food preparation, pre-make bid packets, to off-set some of the costs, as well as to raise money up front. The idea of a $10 charge was discussed. The committee will develop an anonymous way to procure tickets. Jake moved that we have a $10 suggested donation for tickets to the auction, Katherine seconded, the motion was approved with 10 in favor, 2 opposed. This change will be reviewed at the PTSA meeting following the auction along with the review of the auction.

CONSIDER BUYING SCRIP

Literacy Week Project

Literacy Week, a new project this year, is a week dedicated to reading, writing and supporting the library. It is both a community building and fundraising series of events. There are several things planned, or in process: there is a grant from National PTA "Bring Your Families to School" which may be used to bring in outside speakers or to fund a Family Writing Night. There will also be events during the day, the read-a-thon and a Book Fair. The proceeds of these events will go to the library. Please contact Leigh Anne if you are interested in chairing any of these events or volunteering.

Winter Craft Faire

Buff is the chair of this event, and was not available for an update. (See the article below on the Faire.) This was a successful fundraiser last year and will be expanded to a two-day event this year. We encourage you to attend and contact Buff if you want a table.

Wreath Sales

Vanessa Mathis is running this again. (Also, see article, below, right) forms will come out at the beginning of November. There were pies last year, we are not sure if there will be pies again this year.

Winter Craft Faire 2010

December 16th (3-7) and 17th (noon-4).

Buy a table for your student's class

Get a bunch o' other classroom parents together, pony up a few $ (Total cost is $50 per table) and give the kids a business experience they will never forget. Student tables cleaned up last year.....and the kids were proud, pleased and full-pocketed. Contact me asap for more information.

Help with the catalog

Like sitting at your computer? Have a few hours to spare? Familiar with Word? Here's a chance for you to help us all out.... Vendors at the 2010 Winter Craft Faire are submitting PR blurbs - text and images - in ready-to-cut-and-paste formats. The template is already laid out: Catalog is 5.5" X 8.5" finished, and there are three blocks of copy per page, with @ 16 pages. 4 or 5 will not have vendor submissions, so you will be working on about 12 pages. I can show you how, work with you to get you started, edit when necessary. Not micromanage....I will feed you the submissions as I get them, will keep all lists, etc. All you have to do is cut and paste...Catalog is to be finished by the 2nd week of November. Submissions are coming in NOW. I can send you the template and we can converse. Thanks in advance. Please contact me directly, at

PPS/MLC/URA

David Williams, PPS Director of Government Relations, will be meeting with Pam Shelly, a group of parents and Mary Franklin to discuss the issues raised by potentially including MLC in a new Urban Renewal Area (see MLC Google group postings, the September MLC Alternative www.futura.com.. If there are any questions, Mary will take them to the meeting. This is a small group, not a community meeting, Questions:

- What would the process be for community input if PPS is considering developing or selling land currently located at MLC?
- Are there really no plans? What are the real chances of something happening?
- What is the possibility that the URA is going to happen with MLC included? The potential Central City URA?
- Why is MLC included in the proposed URA? It seems to just be added on.
- Can PPS request that MLC not be included? If so, will they?
- If this happens what is the benefit for our school?

Wreath Sales

Greetings MLC Families!

Brrr! It's getting cold out there and the winter holidays are quickly approaching. It's time for the annual wreath and poinsettia fundraiser.

The wreaths are lush and super fragrant. They are made locally with Noble Fir, mixed greens and pine cones. The poinsettias are gorgeous and brilliantly red. These seasonal plants are an amazing value. When you unwrap yours, you'll see why.

Nearly half the proceeds of each item will go to our PTSA. You may email your order to me, or turn it in to the PTSA mailbox in the main office. Payment for your order must be turned in to the PTSA mailbox. I will send a confirmation email once I've received both payment and order.

Orders are due November 22nd. Pick-up will be December 1st and 2nd in the auditorium.

Peace,

Vanessa Mathis

Education Programs for Gifted Youth

MATH ENRICHMENT OPPORTUNITY

Stanford has been running an excellent online learning environment since 1992.

EPGY "Open Enrollment" math program allows a group of students at a school where EPGY is not officially and systematically in place to benefit from K-7 math courses by forming a learning community of at least 8 students (any age, any level). This is a highly individualized, self-paced educational experience that uses a combination of multimedia instruction and automated assessment of student progress (all computer-based). Students work at home and are supported by their parents, who have access to monitoring capabilities, and an array of self-support tools.

Stanford's "Individual Program" courses offered through EPGY are typically $495 for a 3-month term. Through "Open Enrollment", the same courses provided by Stanford (minus math tutors and transcripts) are offered for $135 for one child per year.

NaNoWriMo

Hello, I just wanted to put out there that November is National Novel Writing Month. It's a month to go crazy writing 50,000 words in 30 days.

You don't have to worry about writing your best story ever, or even making sense, you can even write the same word 50,000 times (but seriously that's no fun). It is something I have done every year since 2005 (but last year was the first time I made the 50,000 word goal) and now they also have a Young Writer's Program for kids 17 and younger, with its own devoted website: <http://ywp.nanowrimo.org/>

The Young Writer's Program lets kids set their own reasonable yet challenging word count goals. My daughter, Elva (Avril's 2nd grade) is participating this year. She did it last year too -- only not officially. It's a lot of fun.

People all over the country are all writing themselves crazy through the whole month of November right up until midnight of the 30th.

There is support online. Here in Portland there are lots of group writing sessions available, usually in coffee shops around town. The main site is here <http://www.nanowrimo.org/>

Elva and I are really excited to get started. I had to share the experience with anyone who is interested because it's such a great opportunity to get writing and get your kids writing!! My username on the nanowrimo.org site is: flamesbain and Elva's is: ElvaBain (on the ywp.nanowrimo.org site) - just in case you want to add friends to your page you can add us.

Good luck, you can do it, I just know it!!
